

New agreement will make practice sales 'more straightforward'

The National Association of Specialist Dental Accountants and Lawyers (NASDAL) have announced the launch of a new sale agreement for use by both buyer and seller in practice sales. The new agreements reflect NASDAL members' experience and expertise in the dental field and it is hoped they will save dentists both time and money in practice sales where both lawyers are NASDAL members.

The Chairman of the NASDAL Lawyers group, Andrew Lockhart-Miramis commented, "In some practice sales, there can be large amounts of unnecessary negotiation on the commencement of the sale. These agreements are designed to strike a fair balance between buyer and seller and are a good starting point for our clients. It should make the whole process more straightforward."

Note to editors:

NASDAL, the National Association of Specialist Dental Accountants and Lawyers, was set up in 1998. It is an association of accountants and lawyers who specialise in acting for and looking after the accounting, tax and legal affairs of dentists. It is the pre-eminent centre of excellence for accounting, tax and legal matters concerning dentists. Its members are required to pass strict admission criteria, and it regulates the performance of its members to ensure high standards of technical knowledge and service.
